The facilitator, Elesse Henoc Bafandjo, wrote: "We used the mini-concert to break the ice, then Dialogue and medical education, to create a spirit of community and healing – curing albinos of self-condemnation, fear, and grief of stigmas; curing non-albinos of ignorance-based superstition, fears, harsh judgment, and exclusive behavior that diminishes everyone.

Let the photos illustrate three compelling hours in Kinshasa neighborhood, DR Congo, that dignified everyone and began to re-direct the history of community relationships.
